

Versatile Refrigerated Displays

Costan, the Epta group's Italian brand in the commercial refrigeration sector, is extending its range with a new product that will meet market demand for versatility and visual merchandising impact from mass distribution outlets.

Costan will launch Galileo, a mobile, plug-in refrigerator model that guarantees all-round display adaptability, in March 2008. This model can be used either individually or in combined units. Its compact size (only 1.3 metres long) means it can be fitted into a number of different retail floor space solutions and the height of the unit can easily be adjusted while the tray can be tilted into a variety of positions.